Hidden in Plain Sight

JULY 21 @ 12PM

Hidden in Plain Sight is an interactive display designed to look like a typical teenager's bedroom, helping parents and adults spot signs of risky behavior. Participants learn to identify everyday items that may indicate substance use, or mental health issues, encouraging early awareness and supportive conversations with youth.

I Am Little Red & Red Sand Project

JULY 17 @ 4APM

"I Am Little Red" is a 10-minute award-winning animated short that uses the classic Little Red Riding Hood tale to teach youth (ages 11-14) how traffickers ("wolves") lure victims. It highlights four common tactics used by exploiters, aiming to prevent trafficking through early education.

The Red Sand Project is an interactive art campaign where participants fill sidewalk cracks with red sand to represent those who "fall through the cracks" and are vulnerable to trafficking. It promotes awareness, reflection, and action against human exploitation.
